Personalized IT solutions

Businesses are unique. While different industries and different companies have unique requirements and current enterprise solutions do not support processes to meet them.

Change is inevitable. Businesses change based on market demands and require corresponding change in enterprise applications. In reality most applications are built for flexibility till implementation but cannot handle change subsequently.

Application diversity is the norm. Since business processes cross application boundaries, no single enterprise application meets all business needs. But most of current applications have been built assuming that they are the center of the universe and are not designed for integration and collaboration.

Pramea enables the rapid assembly of personalized enterprise solutions for your unique, best and next business practices.

Our solutions are also geared to meet your ongoing changes in Business Processes or Technologies subsequent to the implementation.

The step to the right direction

We are enthusiastic about taking the right steps in client relations. Our customer service is founded on integrity, honesty and personal attention.

We focus on you - we listen to you - we find the right solution for you. We don't tell you what you want - we listen to what you want and offer you creative solutions through consultation, design, and development.

We want your business, corporation or organization to stand out amidst the Information Technology.

We will help you do this by turning your ideas into a clearly solution through unique and innovative design and implementation.

A striking characteristic of our staff is the open and direct way of interaction, encouraged by the multi-nationality of our employees.

In close coordination with our customers we build up and establish solutions, which generate added value.

All our activities are based on a clearly defined methodology, tailored to the special requirements of the respective customer or project.

A new Perspective on IT solutions by dedicating ourselves to building and bridging long-term, value-added relationships with our clients and consultants.

Building trust in IT Solutions

We help you achieve peace of mind by providing trusted advice and personalized solutions to meet your IT goals.

Pramea's consultants are committed to acting in your best interests, offering advice and service designed to exceed your expectations.
